"An uptight Parisian woman learns about life and love by freeing herself from all societal expectations placed on women and embarking on an unexpected road trip across Europe with a female truckdriver."

Claude is a Parisian woman who "has it all": A good job, a loving family, a chic apartment and a fashionable wardrobe. Despite all this, however, she feels bored and empty inside. This feeling is the catalyst for an innocent flirtation on a café terrace that will change the course of her life. This seemingly inconsequential event will drive her to sexually experiment with many other men, separate from her husband, and set off on a road trip across Europe with a female truckdriver named Ricky, who will teach her the real meaning of love.
