A quirky, hilarious, poetic comic with an environmental focus.

Learn the secrets of organic gardening without all the usual gospel: that's what horticulture professor Luc Bienvenu is here help us do! This former organic market gardener, now a coordinator at Rocamboles Gardens in Brittany, shares his knowledge with illustrator Laurent Houssin, who fell for the charms of this unusual garden and followed Luc around for a year to create a funny, practical, theoretical, philosophical graphic novel about growing herbs and vegetables. Neither a novel nor a gardening guide, but rather a humorous account of the life of a garden as seen by its gardener.
