A humanist manifesto to awaken our consciousness.

What is happening to us? To the world? Does our incompetence stem from myopia with regard to everything beyond the immediate? From a crisis of thought? From widespread somnambulism? So many certainties have been swept aside! How to navigate a sea of uncertainty? How can we understand the history we are living right now? How do we finally admit that by degrading the environment, we are degrading our lives and our societies? How can we understand a world that is transforming with every crisis? How should we conceive of this adventure unprecedented in the annals of humanity? Is it a race to death or to metamorphosis?

Could it be both?

Let's wake up!
