An intelligent, subtle critique of our society by writer Thibault Guichon-Laurier, stunningly illustrated by Frédéric Pillot.

Oh, how lovely it is, wandering about Burrow Woods! The wind blowing through the trees, the sun shining down on the meadows, lush nature all around. But above all, Burrow Woods is home to a great society of noble animals. Counts and countesses, dukes and duchesses, aristocratic rabbits and simple micefolk all live in what appears to be a model of good manners and etiquette. But careful! Scratch the surface and you might find all things pretty have an ugly side...
