Our Earth – so blue, so beautiful, so fragile, so threatened – is the heroine of these nine fables that pass down ancestral wisdom.

Since the beginning of time, tales have wielded extraordinary power. In these nine tales, the heroine is our Earth, our beautiful planet – so blue, so beautiful, so fragile, so threatened.

These tales hand down ancestral wisdom, inviting us to respect nature: sky, land, and sea, plants and animals. They address the great issues of our day and give us nine lessons in ecology.
