10 questions and 4 activities for learning about how you can help save the planet!

This book will help young readers understand why we must preserve the Earth's precious natural resources and how to reach goals of "zero waste," "zero trash," and "zero carbon." The activities section includes instructions for making a calendar wheel of seasonal fruits and vegetables, growing lentils with recycled materials, designing a card game all about trash, and trying to slow the melting of an ice cube.
