A travel diary to fill in with your precious vacation memories and adopt the right eco-friendly gestures!

With this book, vacations will become playful but also sustainable! Its primary focus is help children adopt eco-friendly habits – for instance, by following the rule of the three "Rs": reduce, reuse, recycle. Each two-page spread suggests an activity perfect for nature-packed vacations. Children are invited to observe and preserve mementos of the trees, flowers (herbarium), and animals around them. There's also room in this travel diary to record their moods and the events of the day. A "Charter of the Eco-Friendly Traveler" helps children organize their trip, protect the environment, and find eco-friendly options for getting around, paying special attention to trash and living spaces.
