One day, we meet someone who thrills and dazzles us. That's love! But what really happens when we fall in love?

Love is founded on the uniqueness of the beloved: it is conferred only on that specific individual and no one else. But this exclusivity goes hand-in-hand with infinitude and universality: through the eyes of love, the entire world looks different. If love is folly, it is a gentle madness that opens up other horizons, lends our lives a wholly new dimension.
