Deep inside his heart, Pig has a secret. Sometimes it makes him very sad, but other times it makes him giddy with happiness!

Pig lives a quiet life. He likes to bake apple cakes and eat pizza with his friends. But for some time now, this has no longer been enough for him! He has discovered a secret in his heart that can fill him with hope or plunge him into the depths of despair. To his friend Roger the rabbit, Pig confides that he's in love with Butterfly, a fact that saddens him because a love between a pig and a butterfly cannot be. Roger disagrees: we fall in love not because we look alike, but rather because we like the same things. "Me, I like apples," said Pig. And Butterfly, who happens to be passing by, replies: "Me too, I really like apples!"
