Whether we work for them or they working for us, companies of all sizes make decisions that affect every minute of our lives. Is that really OK?

Following the adventures of a large company from its humble beginnings to explosive global growth, a cartoon cast of academic superheroes shows us why things are the way they are, why that isn't working, why they don't have to be that way, and what we can do to change them. An ideal read for bosses, employees, shareholders, entrepreneurs, and business students, or anyone who's ever had to rely on a company for anything at all.
