Cycling to all far-flung four corners of Europe is a unique, slow, and responsible way to travel... and to be amazed in new and different ways!

How does the idea of pedaling along Europe's beautiful byways sound? With itineraries ranging from one to three weeks, down short, quiet roads or through undulating countryside, with family or as a challenge to solo riders, here are 30 routes for all two-wheeled travelers!

Cross the city of Gothenburg, the cliffs and harbor of Fjällbacka, in Sweden; see the Alps from Turin down to Nice on military roads; tour Andalusia between Seville and Granada...

A cycling adventure can also come with the wonder of waking up in a tent on the shores of the North Sea, or in a hostel in Tuscany, with its towns filled with art and cypress trees.
