The choice of Mélody Enjoubault, Foreign Rights Manager
"Being unique as a child means being wise enough to hope for the happiness of peace without victory."

Hector and Luz have loved each other since they were teens. Since they're both disabled, the people around them deem theirs an impossible affection. And yet they make progress step by step under society's condescending gaze, backed by their instructor Carlo. Like a fragile but determined Romeo and Juliet, they confront obstacles. A profoundly human coming-of-age story about the power of love, self-acceptance, and building a chosen family outside societal norms.
