We all dream of a home of our own, but sometimes that dream turns into a nightmare.

Rich and varied stories. Representative cases that take us into dark worlds of tainted inheritances, unjust expropriations, and mafia business. An exploration of history and the human soul: this well-researched and accessible book blends personal tragedies, historical dramas, and the shortcomings of contemporary societies to offer a complex and gripping portrait [of what?]. True stories, enriched by numerous details, some never before published, are sure to satisfy fans of mysteries, current events, and cold cases.

A fascinating book for fans of crime, history, and real estate, both educational and deeply human.
