A pop-up picture book that takes readers on a trip around the world!

In the mountains, in the deserts, on the ice caps... This picture book in three bold colors, as simple as it is stylish, takes young readers on a tour of our planet, showcasing seven different landscapes in 3D pop-ups! Each new double-page spread is a chance to find an animal traditionally associated with the setting depicted: for instance, a wolf in the woods, a scorpion in the desert, and also humans in the city. This book helps children get to know different landscapes and put names to them, awakening them to the wonders of nature and our environment.
